

Successful Debut for Callan Technology at SPS/IPC/Drives 2010, Nuremberg

Callan Technology exhibited for the first time at the SPS/IPC/Drives (Electric Automation & System Components) Exhibition in Nuremberg, Germany on 24-26 November 2010.

The exhibition organisers declared that the 2010 trade-fair was the most successful yet with over 50,000 visitors over the three days.

A number of new product options and technical brochures were promoted. We would like to take this opportunity to thank all the existing and new customers who visited us in Nurnberg.
